COUNCIL NAMES PAPER

The Council Names Paper is a publication chosen by the executive council for the title line. Dr. Edmund L. feels that the World of Paper will do well in making Seattle truly a cosmopolitan place to live.

College newspaper, Udl is interested in dramatic and other forms of the arts. He also enjoys progressive and modern music. An ambition of Dr. Edmund L. to write a French book, but he feels confident of producing a very complete one. His latest appearance under the title of The Zhocat In The World is due to appear in the world, through the bookstores, free of charge. If he had his choice of any place in the world to live, he would have two haunts - a penthouse in New York and a place on the Ocon.

The College paper is aunt to be a monthly publication but, due to unforeseen circumstances, only two editions will be printed during the first term. It is the hope of the Thunderlord that its publication will contribute to the school's activities by adding news and information for the students. Next year they are planning to include a new column and sponsored advertisements.

His academic accomplishments, along with his literary skills, make Dr. Edmund L. a person worthy of respect.

Unique Trips Scheduled

Our school has already become known for its biological science. The Shapeero*o Biology course is outstanding in that it differs from any course the University of Washington offers. Focusing on the general animal phyla, it has a fairly liberal curriculum.

Periodic field trips are scheduled according to the local tide and the different species are known to be found in the various regions of the San Juan Archipelago. Students are generally allowed to participate in their collection.

Recently several trips have been made into the Puget Sound region. Equipment for these trips is limited, but without it one collects only what he can pry forcibly from the older rock or what is dead in the water. Water is a way of compensation. When the organisms which are fairly common are usually covered with a slimy coating, Orbe finds himself grabbing mudly in all directions. Without the needed equipment, the only clothing with which to equalize a fight with the specimen.

An account of the first trip will give you a general idea of the fortitude required.
