Letter To The Editor

Traffic Problem

Dear Editor:

If you think the traffic problem at South 240th St. is bad, you should have seen it before! I was making my way through the parking lot at 9:45 PM, and I was forced to circle three times before finding a spot. This is not an isolated incident, and it's time for something to be done about it.

The parking lot at South 240th St. is located only one block west of Highway 99, which is a busy road that sees approximately 3,000 students attending our institution. The lot is located near the entrance of the student parking lot and is a great hazard for those entering and exiting high-speed traffic.

Therefore, traffic reaches high levels at this intersection with per-minute traffic rates of up to 200 cars. This is a life-threatening situation, and the state of Washington has declared it a serious traffic problem.

In conclusion, I urge the administration to take action to reduce traffic at this intersection. The safety of our students should be our top priority.

Yours truly,

Homecoming?

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am writing this letter on behalf of the Associated Student Body Secretary. We have been considering the idea of having a Homecoming event to add interest during basketball season and to increase school spirit and pride. However, due to the lack of student support and the high cost of organizing such an event, it was dropped.

It is our hope that with your help, we can find a solution to this problem. We are looking for creative and cost-effective ideas to improve school spirit and encourage student involvement.

Thank you for your interest and support.

Yours truly,

Women Offered Intramurals

Highline College will begin an intramural program for women in winter quarter. The new pavilion will be available for women’s sports at 2:00 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, with an intramural assistant and instructor present to assist and instruct. Mrs. Command and Mr. Woodward, Highline physical education instructors, have expressed enthusiasm over the new program. It is hoped that volleyball, basketball, badminton, and floor exercises will be offered. These sports will be for women and also, if interest warrants, co-ed. Mrs. Command has asked that as many teams as possible be organized this quarter. This would enable team members to participate in any sports at Highline College.

New Form For Grade Reports

It’s small, but it brings large news. It is simple to understand, but it brings complexity to many. It is new and unworkable, but its message is clear: the grade report for the current quarter has been released at the giant basketball pavilion and just in time today, Dec. 6, on campus.

This draft consists of twenty-five lines. These lines are: Donnaia Green, Chairman; Addie (Marti) Jones, and Margaret Bostwick, co-Chairmen; Judy Thompson, Wendy Swine, Linda Sewell, Salti Cunningham, Bonnie Childers, Elaine Chekwa, Richard Casey, Linda Baby, Julie Gjersem, Mary Randolph, Connie Millward, Larry Roberts, Phil Bannister, Ken Stryker, George Huntington, Mark McEwan, Barbara Breent and Mary Moors.

Plans now are for release of the grade report within two weeks after the quarter end. The grade report will be released to the students through the office of the Registrar and in a newsletter. It will be the first time for any sports at Highline College to actually issue a grade report. The form is: (1) credit-hours attempted, current quarter; (2) credit-hours passed and completed during current quarter; (3) grade-points for individual courses completed during current quarter; (4) current quarter grade-point average; (5) cumulative credit-hours attempted at Highline; (6) cumulative grade-points at Highline; and, (7) cumulative GPA.
