The Activities Council is doing a good job of keeping us informed. It is the Council's responsibility to keep us informed. A Council meeting is held each Friday at 3:30 p.m. in the Administration Building. The Council is responsible for the overall administration of the Student Activities. The Council is also responsible for the overall administration of the Student Activities. The Council has been working on a few service projects, but all in all this has been a long time. The Community Council has been working on a few service projects, but all in all this has been a long time. The Community Council has been working on a few service projects, but all in all this has been a long time.

The Council has finally come to the realization that there are necessary projects that it could undertake. One of these projects has to do with the need for a student lounge at Highline College. The lack of a lounge at Highline College has been a long time. The Community Council has been working on a few service projects, but all in all this has been a long time.

Students Cry "Free Speech!" And Don't Practice What They Preach

If you haven't noticed previously and you carry me here, you may not be aware of the whole thing. The key word here is "freedom". The key word here is "freedom". The key word here is "freedom". The key word here is "freedom". The key word here is "freedom". The key word here is "freedom".

The reason for the lack of letters, I believe, is that too many people are talking about the Freedom of Speech. Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent increase in the number of students who are not practicing what they preach. As a student of Highline College, I have noticed that many of my peers are not taking advantage of the freedom of speech available to us.

I believe that students should be encouraged to express their opinions, whether they agree with the administration or not. The T-Word staff is literally uncensored. The T-Word agrees. But to go too far in this area can lead to a breakdown in the community. It is important that we find a way to balance the need for free speech with the need for a respectful and orderly environment.

Sincerely,

AS A MATTER OF FACT...

by Larry Leonard

The year is 1962. ... It was Mark D. Moore, and he was a member of the student government.

The real matter of fact... was the role of the student government. ... It was, in fact, the only body in the school that could be considered as having a formal role in the school's activities.

The student government was organized as a body to represent the students in matters of interest to them. It was also a body to keep the administration informed of the students' needs and concerns.

The student government had a number of responsibilities. ... The student government also had the responsibility of coordinating the activities of the various clubs and organizations on campus.

In conclusion, the student government was an important part of the Highline High School community. ... The student government was at the heart of the school's social and administrative activities.
Counseling Staff To Visit Green River

Highline College counseling staff headed by Dorothy Selicht Adachi is slated to visit Green River Community College Friday, April 29. The counseling staff will meet counselors from several other colleges in all-day workshop. Those expected to attend are Green River, Highline, Bellevue, and Yakima.

The counselors will discuss the vocational and technical programs that each institution offers. They will also discuss the problem of placement and will spend the session by touring campus of Green River College to find two miles east of Auburn.
Active Highline, Mike Smith, elected State DECA Frany
by Phyllis Beath

Another Highline, Mike Smith, has been elected to the Mark Osborne State-wide Leadership Conference held March 30.

Highline, having participated in the DECA competition for two years, is the only college to qualify for the competition in two years.

Mike, who is against three other opponents, stated that he had decided to run because he had a great deal, "to be active on the state level.

He stated, as president, to make the student council known positively to the high school directors, and to be involved on both the student and social level.

Secondly, Mike plans on working on a discrimination name change for the mid-management program.

He also wishes to promote DECA week and the DECA's organization to businessmen and the public.

Lastly, he would like to involve all state DECA and mid-management states into a stronger organization.

One of Mike's first official acts as president will be to hold a day on a planned fundraising project for the DECA, property directors.

Besides working on the state organization, Mike is active on the high school management club which takes up most of his time. He works at the Clohsehouse in Bothell.

The new president maintained an even keener schedule while working on the management club, but worked with the management club director, to tend it for three years, and held a day on a state-wide trip.

In his spare time, when he wasn't working on the high school management club, Mike worked as a union member, fishing, boating, skiing, diving, or doing odd jobs. During his spare time, he played the guitar, organ, and bass instruments. On his spare time, he organized his own jazz band.

Quarterly One in May

The students elected for the officers, and they are the teachers pictures of Highline's illustrious instructors, that it is, in the second Quarterly of the year.

When the publication is finished, and the magazine will present a comprehensive view of each educational division, the students and faculty are expected to cover the students and faculty's work at the high school.

In addition, a two-page page of the magazine of Fall Quarter athletics including basketball, swimming, and wrestling.

Perhaps the most contrasting feature of the Quarterly will be the two-page college on the art department, created by Chief Photographer Dell Adams.

The Thunder-Word—Friday, April 29, 1946—Page 8

Franny Frosh

The rolling prices of "more freedom" and the "we students want more rights," have been heard repeatedly this year. There is the A.S.B. elections, students were presented with the advantage of taking part in one of the first real democratic processes—a first election for the candidates of their choice. However, too many students rejected this privilege to the extent that students showed interest in hard part and cast their votes.

The scene is somewhere on the Highline College Campus some afternoon.

PROGRESS: Well, like I didn't have my A.S.B. say with me.

PROGRESS: Well, like I didn't even know there was an election, for all the publicity that was out on it.

FRANNY: Don't bank any money on that one either. Buddy, I mean, if you didn't get the gentle hint that an election was coming, then it's your duty to learn all the details in the bulletin or Thunder-Word or have the call for votes, to please understand was to do what you want, huh?

FRANNY: God, no, Granny.

FRANNY: The name is Franny.

PROGRESS: Yeah, that's what I meant. Anyway, so do I care about an election? I won't be here next year anyway.

PROGRESS: Fine, Fine, Franny. But do you know what you students are just as dissipate towards anything concerning the college. Have you ever asked about a student? Don't you want Highline to continue to prosper? To a lot of you, Highline probably could be dynamized the day after you left and as long as you didn't need it, you could care less. A lot of you are too lazy and too wrapped up in yourselves that you report anything and everything. You complain and yell and scream about whatever happens, yet you don't seem to realize that improvements can only come about unless you yourselves are willing to do something about it.

Ouch, not only that, but you are irresponsible as well. You mouth off about things which disturbs you, yet you don't want to be responsible for bringing things up to someone or even to the proper people where something can be done: namely your class and A.S.B. officers who have been selected to REPRESENT YOU, THE STUDENT BODY. If you can't even show enough concern to support them in their efforts to help you in some way, you would be less� less likely to be appointed in this group. It seems as if they have become completely insulated from any touch with any of the students.

PROGRESS: Alright, alright. So don't be lazy, either. I was just putting you on before. Actually I have a very good reason for why I didn't vote.

PROGRESS: Let's hear it.

PROGRESS: Well, you know those voting machines? They really scared me away. I mean I didn't know how they worked and I didn't want to blow my nose and I didn't want to get into something and I didn't want to do anything.

FRANNY: Oh, well, for a moment then I thought that you had some ridiculous excuse and you certainly didn't use it.

PROGRESS: Oh, well, for a moment then I thought that you had some ridiculous excuse and you certainly didn't use it. And you're not even over the over 75% of the people who don't even believe in what, what's your RATIONAL EXCUSE?

FRANNY: Well, for a moment then I just thought that you had some ridiculous excuse and you certainly didn't use it.

PROGRESS: Yes, I did. I just thought that I had some ridiculous excuse and you certainly didn't use it.

FRANNY: Well, for a moment then I just thought that you had some ridiculous excuse and you certainly didn't use it.
T-BIRDS Set Five Records

The Hi-T-BIRDS won the season opener and opened their slate of Hanna Trojans Relays in Everett guerrilla by placing second in the final meet of the season. The T-BIRDS were composed of a squad of highline athletes who placed records and led the way in the final meet of the year. The team was composed of Dave A. Anderson, Bernard Baptiste, Mike Reese, and John McPher son.

Bash Bales started out with a strong showing, recording a time of 2:22.0 in the 880 relay. Highline was composed of the same squad that placed second in the final meet of the season. New Classes Are Added

The variety and number of classes offered at Highline College have been increased to meet the needs of high school students and to make some changes in the current curriculum. In addition to the three new courses to be offered this summer and the following fall, the new English course will be introduced next fall and the new Business course will be introduced next fall.

The new English course will be offered in the summer, and the following fall, and will be taught by experienced instructors. The new Business course will be offered in the spring, and the following fall, and will be taught by experienced instructors.

The new English course will be taught by Miss Vicki Steinberg in the English Department. The new Business course will be taught by Mr. Lawson in the Business Department.

JUNIOR COLLEGE MEN:

If you plan to continue your education at a four-year college, you can double your chances for success by earning both a degree and an Army officer's commission at the same time.

A new program, which can be completed as a Second Lieutenant after taking two years of Army ROTC training while you complete your studies for a college degree. You will qualify for this program by attending a special six-week summer training camp after your sophomore year and then completing the ROTC Advanced Course in your junior and senior years of college.

Here's what ROTC training and an officer's commission will do for you:

- It will provide you with a military obligation as an officer.
- You will learn to organize, motivate, and lead others.
- You will develop leadership qualities that many college men miss—self-discipline, physical stamina, poise, bearing, the acceptance of responsibility and other qualities that contribute to success in either a civilian or military career.
- You will receive $425 per month during your junior and senior years, plus pay and mileage for summer training.
- The training and experience you will receive through Army ROTC will pay off for the rest of your life. A decision to take advantage of this new program could be one of the most important you will ever make.

You owe it to yourself to investigate this new important opportunity.
