Editorial .... Publicity?

Many students have asked me if I will bring back the student newspaper, "The Thunder-Word" to the student body. I have decided to bring back the student newspaper in the fall. When making this decision I have taken many factors into consideration, such as student interest, the need for a student-run newspaper, and the benefits of having a student newspaper. I believe that bringing back the student newspaper will benefit the student body and the college as a whole.

Would you believe it if I told you that the student newspaper is an important part of student life? The newspaper provides a platform for students to express their opinions and ideas, and it also serves as a way for students to stay informed about what is happening on campus. By bringing back the student newspaper, I hope to provide a voice for the student body and to give students a chance to have their say.

If you have any questions or comments about the student newspaper, please feel free to contact me. I look forward to hearing from you.

Odds 'N Ends

You're Really Nice

We would like to introduce our new activity, "You're Really Nice," to the student body. This activity is designed to encourage students to be kind and considerate to each other. Each week, we will choose one student at random and give them a small gift, such as chocolates or a bouquet of flowers. Additionally, we will post a message on the bulletin board that says, "You're Really Nice," to remind everyone to be kind to each other.

Teen Testing Ad

The test times for the upcoming test have been released. The test will take place on February 15th. Please make sure to study and prepare for the test.

Letter to Editor

Two Days

There is a studentought who is writing a book about his experiences as a student at Highline College. He has been writing for two days straight, and it looks like he will finish the book soon. We are excited to see what he has to say about his time at the college.

Series To Add

Olympia Lectures

Olympia College will present a series of lectures on "The Word Made Law." The lectures will be held on Tuesdays at 7 PM in the auditorium. The topics will include, but not be limited to, "The Word Made Law," "The Word Made Law," and "The Word Made Law."

Clubs -- Turn in Your Own "Copy"

Has your club been wondering why there have been no pictures of your activities and plans in the Thunder-Word? The answer may be because your club did not turn in their "copy" of what they would like to see in the paper. Please be sure to turn in your "copy" as soon as possible.

Wilson's Reviews

Midnight

"Midnight" is a new movie that has been released recently. The movie is about a group of students who are trying to solve a murder mystery on their campus. I think the movie is well worth watching, and I highly recommend it to anyone who enjoys a good mystery.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas
Spoke to Crowd at Highline College

He pointed out that the constitution is not a new idea but an 18th century product. The court was first set up as a referee on questions of constitutionality of various cases that arose. One of the oldest questions that was brought up before the court and is still with us today, is the problem of states' rights. This became a major problem in 1821 and is still before the court in many of the cases it hears.

The main problem that has confronted the court is that the constitution, which is the groundwork for the court, is many times undefined, and with a small change in context can bring a whole new meaning to a statute and can become another issue altogether.

Highline Students Express Varied Opinions About Swimming Pool Now Under Construction

by Kathy Woodrow

A swimming pool will be something they won't hesitate to use and enjoy, according to students at Highline College. Some think it's a great idea, others think they can't have it.

Evelyn Lodge, a senior majoring in English, said she thinks the pool would be a great addition to Highline College. She also said it would be a great place for students to relax and enjoy the outdoors. "I think it's a whole new facet to the campus," Lodge said.

Janet Martin, a sophomore majoring in business, said she thinks the pool would be a great idea. She also said it would be a great place for students to relax and enjoy the outdoors. "I think it's a great idea," Martin said.

Dr. John Jones, a college professor, said he thinks the pool would be a great idea. He also said it would be a great place for students to relax and enjoy the outdoors. "I think it's a great idea," Dr. Jones said.

Judy Redd, a junior majoring in accounting, said she thinks the pool would be a great idea. She also said it would be a great place for students to relax and enjoy the outdoors. "I think it's a great idea," Judy Redd said.

Sharon White, a senior majoring in business, said she thinks the pool would be a great idea. She also said it would be a great place for students to relax and enjoy the outdoors. "I think it's a great idea," Sharon White said.

Pat McShane... A Very Busy Man

Des Duncan Is Vietnam Speaker

Pat McShane, 46, is a retired Marine and Vietnam veteran. He is the guest speaker at Highline's 10th annual Veterans Day program. McShane, who was a corporal in the Marine Corps, served in Vietnam from 1966 to 1968. He was a mortar gunner in the 1st Marine Division and was twice wounded before being discharged. After returning to civilian life, McShane became a tailor in Seattle. He is also an active member of Highline's American Legion Post 213.

"I will talk about my experiences in Vietnam and the impact it had on me," McShane said. "I also want to share some of the lessons I learned there that have helped me in life."

McShane joins a long list of guest speakers who have graced the stage at Highline's annual Veterans Day program. Previous speakers have included World War II veterans, a Vietnam War nurse, and a member of the Luftwaffe.

"The program is a great way to honor those who have served our country," said Highline President Dr. Richard McCarty. "It's a time for us to reflect on the sacrifices that these brave men and women have made for us."

McShane's talk will be held on November 11th, at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center. The program is free and open to the public.

Sophomore Class Sponsored Mad Day Events Fun for All

For the second year in a row, the Sophomore Class has organized Mad Day events to raise money for their class scholarship fund. This year's Mad Day events included a dodgeball tournament, a lip-sync contest, and a bake sale.

"We are so excited about this year's Mad Day events," said Sophomore Class President Samantha Johnson. "We have been planning this for months and we can't wait to see everyone there."
