RE: USE OF THE LOUNGE

The intent of this communication is to help avoid loss of the privilege of using the lounge for the purpose for which it is intended. The observance of the following regulations will help to assure the best use of the lounge for the greater number of students. Those who do not wish to abide by these few rules will be denied the use of the lounge.

1. Do not move the furniture
2. Do not use the furniture in a manner that will cause damage: i.e., no feet on the furniture, no sitting on arms or backs of chairs or davenos, no sleeping on the davenos or tipping furniture off the floor.
3. Cigarette ashes and butts are to be placed in ashtrays, not on the floor.
4. No food or drink (including sack lunches) is allowed in the lounge, except when sponsored through Student Council activities.
5. Playing radios, and musical instruments and group singing are not allowed in the lounge, except when sponsored through Student Council activities.
6. Waste baskets should be used for all refuse.
7. Lamps are not to be unplugged or moved.
8. Lamp shades and bulbs are to be replaced in an attractive and functional manner when damaged.
9. Loud talk and boisterous action should be avoided since it is not conducive to the relaxing atmosphere that should prevail in the lounge.

Sincerely,

David Y. W-

Joins Faculty at Highline College

by Kathy Woodhouse

Mr. John Pierce, an expert in Far Eastern history and geography, has joined the faculty of Highline College as a member of the Division of English and Social Studies.

Pierce, who is presently living in the Seattle area, has taught at various universities and colleges in the United States and abroad. He is a former Lecturer in Far Eastern History and Socio-Political Science at the University of Hawaii, and he has also taught at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Washington.

Pierce received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Stanford University and his doctorate from the University of Chicago. He has published several books on Far Eastern history and politics, and his research has been widely recognized.

At Highline, Pierce will be teaching courses in Far Eastern history and politics, as well as courses in the history of the Far East. He will also be available for consultation on research projects and for general discussions on Far Eastern topics.

Pierce hopes to publish a new book on the history of Japan in the near future. He is currently working on a study of the political and social changes that have occurred in Japan since World War II.

Dr. Shirley Gordon, Dean of Instruction, said, "Mr. Pierce is an excellent addition to our faculty. We are fortunate to have such a knowledgeable and experienced scholar on our staff."

Pierce said, "I am excited about teaching at Highline College. The students here are enthusiastic and eager to learn. I look forward to working with them and helping them to understand the complex and fascinating world of Far Eastern history and politics."

Intramurals Begin Tennis Tourney

by Ron Lobe

The second phase of the intramural tennis season began this week in the main gymnasium with the Oregon State University Recreation Department. The tourney, which is a part of the OSU intramural sports program, is open to all students and faculty members.

Several teams from various colleges and universities participated in the tournament, which was held over the weekend. The tournament was divided into two divisions: the Men's Division and the Women's Division. Each division was divided into two brackets: the first division and the second division. The first division included the top four teams, while the second division included the bottom four teams.

The Men's Division was won by the Oregon State University team, which scored a total of 10 points. The Women's Division was won by the University of Oregon team, which scored a total of 8 points.

The tournament was held from Friday, September 11, to Sunday, September 13, at the Oregon State University gymnasium. The tourney was open to all students and faculty members, and they could participate in the tournament by registering at the Oregon State University Recreation Department office.

The intramural tennis season is sponsored by the Oregon State University Recreation Department, which is located in the main gymnasium. The department offers a wide range of intramural and extramural sports programs, including tennis, volleyball, basketball, and soccer.

The Oregon State University Recreation Department is committed to providing a safe and enjoyable environment for all students and faculty members. The department is dedicated to promoting physical fitness, health, and wellness through organized and recreational sports programs. The department offers a variety of programs that cater to different age groups and skill levels, and it is open to all students and faculty members.
