WAR and PEACE

Student Veterans Rate Our Recognition, Thanks

There is an important element in our current situation which has always been a part of American foreign policy, but which is now receiving such attention in the press as to make it seem like a new development. This is the question of war and peace.

The American Hypocrisy

I would suggest that it would be difficult for some nations in order to understand American foreign policy. I am an American, and I don't think I'd be the first to say that there are discrepancies in our policy both at home and abroad, and that these discrepancies often confuse our allies, our enemies, and our own people.

Underdeveloped country, we send Americans armed with guns. To understand American foreign policy, this is through no fault of our own. This could be confusing to our allies, to our enemies, and to our own people.

The riots presents definite recommendations to ease and begin with. One program undermines the other. Only a nation of high morals and high ideals, and undying concern for the less fortunate, can have an influence and an impact on the college. This element of criticism from other people on this campus then they do not deserve to be in office. Certainly President Johnson does not go out of office.

Listen Here You Leaders

After the last editorial the ASB officials were quite unhappy because they had been criticized. I would now like to remind all student leaders that you must still face the fact that you have short-changed the entire Freshman class of this college. It would not have been elected. Anyone who does not like the way the student leaders are handling things has the perfect right and privilege to let his criticism be heard. It consists of returning service veterans, of which there are approximately 50% of the student body who have both an influence and an impact on the college. This element of criticism from other people on this campus then they do not deserve to be in office.

Dear Editor:

I have no desire to make waves whilst my open canoe. I must agree that relationship. There have been times my lightly instilled beliefs have teaching certificate entitled one to subject students to public ridicule and unethical testing, during registration, has underupper-classmen, among them gossipers consist of not only crazy people(358,773),(468,880) that they don't realize the difference between those who are already emotionally affected or who don't realize the difference between what is real and what is imaginary.

Why No President's Forum?

Dear Editor:

I have been a President's Forum, and it seems that the forum is of no interest to them as they claim, (a fact which if believed it.)

The Price of Victory -- The Destruction of a Nation

Dear Editor:

The bombing of Hanoi itself will not persuade the North Vietnamese to negotiate a settlement dictated by the United States. If the Viet Cong, if necessary, would fight to the last man.

Mr. Excitement For President?

Dear Editor:

All over the country more and more citizens are pushing for a new candidate to be the next president of the United States. Mr. Excitement has been proposed as a possible candidate. He is the son of a famous actor and has been a successful politician in California. He has been described as a man of the people, who will listen to the needs of the American people.

What's Wrong With The Library Anyway?

Dr. Morris Gives Answers To Our Library Problems

Dr. Morris, the President of Highline College, was questioned about the noises in the library and the delays in getting books. He responded:

To the student who asked, "Why are they making so much noise in the library?"

Dr. Morris said, "We have a policy of keeping the library quiet. Students should take a seat and concentrate on their studies."

To the student who asked, "Why do they keep taking books out of the library?"

Dr. Morris responded, "We only have four copies of each text and only half of the students need them."

To the student who asked, "What is the delay in getting books?"

Dr. Morris explained, "The delay is caused by students not returning books on time."

To the student who asked, "Why is the seating problem so bad?"

Dr. Morris suggested, "You can ask the campus police to keep the library quiet."

To the student who asked, "Why do they keep moving books?"

Dr. Morris said, "We need to move the books to make room for new ones."

Periodical Problems

The majority of reserve collections are going to the EDC building. The Reserve Desk is working hard to serve the students. However, there is a problem with the book return slot by the library. The book return slot is full, which is causing inconvenience to many students. A large number of students are waiting for the book return slot to be opened.

Dr. Morris invites all students to help solve the problem and asks them to fill out suggestion cards. He also asks them to maintain a quiet library and come and help with this problem.

Dr. Morris receives complaints from the students who do not check books out. They feel that one text cannot be the solution to the problem. Therefore, the teachers have to go to the bindery and ask for the texts they want.

Dr. Morris explained that the delay in getting books is due to the students not returning books on time. The student does not want to return the book. However, the students realize that it is not helping the library, so they begin to return the books.

Dr. Morris invites all students to come and help with these problems and take a seat in the library and maintain a quiet environment for studying.

Dr. Morris explained that the students who do not check books out find it useless and want them to be located at the reserve section of the library. The delay in getting books is due to the students not returning books on time. The students feel that one text cannot be the solution to the problem.

When interviewed about their comment:

Typewriters would pay for them. I usually prefer a typed paper. I think it creates a problem. I don’t matter if you’re doing something at home. I think it doesn’t make the students think. It doesn’t make them do something. It doesn’t matter how many times you say it. It is a shame that students use the typewriters. The Peace Corps.

Under the present system, the teaching of the different subjects. In other words instead of having two books for a class of thirty there is no one to blame for the failure of this system. The librarians can’t be blamed, for they are doing their jobs. The teaching of the different subjects.

The Peace Corps.

The two-hour reserve books pose the biggest problem according to students. Since the library is only open 12 hours a day, somewhere along the line 23 students would not be able to finish the assignment. The result would have to be that some students would either have to copy another student’s paper, fake the assignment or not do the work at all. Since nobody in class complained about the assignment.

To Live

Through the tangled thoughts I fight To reach a rational reality But the reality turns out to be Not reality at all But a product of my own distorted Point of view.

The velvet is no more I see the hand has spread To pay me harm and put the cost of tears and storms Upon the laughing tiger.

The tiger smiles to see me cry For all the hopes that might have been if the velvet ceased to walk.

Where is the velvet travel To Live Through the tangled thoughts I fight To reach a rational reality But the reality turns out to be Not reality at all But a product of my own distorted Point of view.

Where is the velvet travel With feet of soft That amble round That rivers flowed so smooth on Where is the humble gentler Who ceased with chatter Bitterness and want But stretched Iris hands to gesture Come to it till it slipped. The velvet is no more I see the hand has spread To pay me harm and put the cost of tears and storms Upon the laughing tiger.

The Scientist Reality!

Let's look at this scientist reality. Our scientists have gathered under the guise of reason and logic to replace magic. They are the new philosophers. They are the new magicians. They are the new poets. They are the new architects. They are the new dreamers. They are the new artists. They are the new scientists. They are the new mystics. They are the new seers. They are the new prophets. They are the new priests. They are the new gods. They are the new goddesses. They are the new saviors. They are the new messiahs. They are the new sages. They are the new wise men. They are the new seers. They are the new prophets. They are the new priests. They are the new gods. They are the new goddesses. They are the new saviors.
