Life May Pass You By

Life is the one way street that leads to final home upon the stage, and then there is no return. —Volsintzev

You have only one chance to live. And if you do not make the most of your life now, tomorrow may be too late.

Black Nationalists Are Unrepresentative of All

The people who believe in the doctrines of Henry and his Black Nationalists are opportunists. The doctrines of Henry and his Black Nationalists are professional men; and many of them teach business law or a course in psychology. The atmosphere is composed of the young electric affluent society, so let's get the lead out!

Up in the States

Dear Editor:

I believe that all efforts be made to encourage the present condition of study the present condition of study in the college. I always speak well of the Negro who is a college student. I am always proud of the fact that everything is well in the college. I believe that all students should have the opportunity to attend college.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
Cancer. June 24 through July 23.

Difficulties which now cause great anxieties to your subconscious. On Aries, March 21 through April 20, you could hire a few big thugs to wipe him out. Don't put all your eggs in one basket when the writing is on the wall. But take heart. This week would have been better. It is always better to be optimistic, but I have a feeling that you might not have been optimistic enough.

Capricorn, member of the zodiac, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Scorpio, October 23 through November 21, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Virgo, August 24 through September 23, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Sagittarius, November 22 through December 21, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Aquarius, January 20 through February 18, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Pisces, February 19 through March 20, is known for being a boss. That's right, a boss. You can boss around a lot of people, but you can't boss around a few big thugs.

Try lurking about for fun.

The Poetry Place

Love and Life

In this world of power, materialism and money which are held in higher esteem than human values, we often forget that the true meaning of life is to be happy. Happiness is not the result of success, but the cause of success. Happiness is not the result of wealth, but the cause of wealth.

The world is full of things that are not worth doing, but there are also things that are not worth doing. The world is full of people who are not worth helping, but there are also people who are not worth helping. The world is full of problems that are not worth solving, but there are also problems that are not worth solving.

Despite the many obstacles man has had to hurdle, he has managed to create a world that is a better place because of his work. It is a world of peace, freedom and prosperity. It is a world where people have a chance to live, to love, to work, to play, to learn, to grow.

Now more than ever, we need to be reminded of the value of life. We need to be reminded of the value of love. We need to be reminded of the value of freedom. We need to be reminded of the value of prosperity.

As I Walk Alone

Don't ask me why, I don't have a clue. I don't know where I'm going, I don't know what I'm doing. I'm just walking along, trying to find my way. But I'm not worried, I'm not scared, I'm not afraid. I'm just walking along, trying to find my way.

The Light of Your Existence

This is the light of your existence, shining bright over my deserted arms. I am a wanderer, a vagabond, a Drifter. I am a man who has lost his way, a man who has lost his home. But I am not alone, I am not lonely, I am not deserted. I am a part of the human race, a part of the human family.

As you walk along, don't forget the light of your existence. Don't forget the light of your existence. Don't forget the light of your existence.

Robert Kennedy (Dem.)

He advocates the use of surpluses, and he also insists that new housing be built in the working force should come from low-income areas, adequate retraining allowances for disabled veterans, and he also supports increasing far more than 7 or per cent a year, and there seems to be no logical reason why this should be, or why we should continue to talk as though Negroes have the most at stake when it comes to the question of war. It is they who are sent to die and draws and the Vietnamese are about Negro riots unless we can prove that their aspirations are relevant to the realities that come into play in the lives of all U.S. citizens.

It is unfortunate that the President should say what he did in his address to the American Broadcasting Company, but we must have the courage to face the hard facts. The President is wrong. He is wrong in his assessment of the situation, and he is wrong in his policies. He has failed to recognize that the rights of man are sacred, and he has failed to recognize that the American people have a right to know the truth. The President is wrong, and he must resign.

John Stennis (Rep.)

I would like to suggest that the administration's policies may be insufficient to solve the problems of poverty and discrimination, and that a more comprehensive approach is needed. We must recognize that the problem of poverty is not simply a matter of economic inequality, but also a matter of social injustice. We must work to reduce poverty and to promote equality, and we must do so throughout the nation, not just in cities.

Lyndon Johnson (Dem.)

I believe that the United States should be committed to a policy of moderate increase in troop strength. This is necessary to ensure the safety of our soldiers and to protect the freedom of other nations. I am convinced that we can achieve our objectives without the use of force, and I am committed to working towards a peaceful solution.

Nelson Rockefeller (Rep.)

We must have a policy of fiscal health, decent housing, education, jobs, recompense, and all U.S. military forces are within the hope that he can end the war before the end of his term; however, he is also pursuing a policy of limited recognition, the cessation of search and seizure processes, a phased withdrawal of American forces, and a negotiation for a political solution that respects the sovereignty of Vietnam.

Richard Nixon (Rep.)

He advocates a tax increase

to make necessary corrections.

We must take the necessary steps to prevent further deterioration, and we must urgently to grips with the reality of China.

Domestic Policy

We must have a policy that recognizes the importance of domestic issues. We must focus on the problems of poverty and discrimination, and we must work to reduce poverty and to promote equality

throughout the nation.

American presidential primaries, and he also comments that the administration has "distorted" the war as an ambitious plan of world communism to gobble up Vietnam and dominate Asia.

Vietnam

Mark Hatfield (Rep.)

Hatfield was one of two to vote against the war in Vietnam. He says the war is "clearly a civil war among the Vietnamese people," and he also comments that the administration has "distorted" the war as an ambitious plan of world communism to gobble up Vietnam and dominate Asia.

The Exchange

By Barbara McIntyre

The art exhibition of the University of British Columbia is currently showing in the Exchange under the supervision of Mr. Potter. The Exchange is located in the University of British Columbia Student Union Building and is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

The art exhibition features works by a variety of artists, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs. The art is displayed on a rotating basis, with new works added and old works removed regularly.

Mr. Potter, the current supervisor of the art exhibition, has been with the University of British Columbia for several years and has a strong background in art. He is responsible for selecting the works to be exhibited and for overseeing the exhibition's operation.

The art exhibition is open to the public and admission is free. It is a great opportunity to see some of the best art being produced by University of British Columbia students and faculty.

Highline Teacher To Present Paper At History Conference

John Pierce, HS history teacher, has been invited to present a paper at the 1972 National History Conference. It will be held in Boston on April 29th through May 1st.

Mr. Pierce's topic is developing a course in Vietnamese history within the context of world civilizations. For instance, civilizations are being compared in order to see how they differ in their organizations, philosophies, and social structures.

Dr. Godbe explained that Dr. Pierce is one of the 17 teachers in the state who have been named to the National History Foundation Conference Committee.

Dr. Godbe pointed out that the committee members were chosen on the basis of their work as history teachers. Teachers who have had demonstrated interest and concern for the teaching of history were chosen.

The committee will be holding a panel discussion on the subject of the history of Vietnam on April 29. The discussion will cover the history of Vietnam to the present day. The panel will be made up of a variety of people, including historians and educators.

Management Association To Attend National Convention

Highline Community College Management Association will be attending the National Association of Community Colleges Convention. The convention will be held in Chicago, Ill., on May 19 through May 22.

The members of the Highline Community College Management Association will be attending the convention to learn about the latest developments in community college management.

Two students are entering the convention in order to learn more about the management of community colleges. Mr. Pierce will be representing the state of Washington.
