Inhalation Therapy Offered

Take a deep breath: it's not just your lungs that need a workout. When you run or play sports, your muscles work hard, but so do your lungs. They need oxygen to fuel your body's needs. Inhalation Therapy is a technique used to improve the function of your lungs.

The inhalation therapy session is a form of exercise for the lungs. It involves inhaling medication through a nebulizer or using a metered-dose inhaler. This helps to open the airways and reduce inflammation, making it easier for you to breathe.

This therapy is especially beneficial for people with asthma, COPD, and other lung conditions. Regular sessions can improve breath flow and reduce the frequency of asthma attacks.

Letter to the Editor

Elect A Statesman Or A Politician?

Let's compare the characteristics of a statesman with those of a politician. A statesman is someone who is committed to the nation's well-being, with a vision for the future and a sense of responsibility. They are dedicated to the public interest, working towards a better society. A statesman is willing to sacrifices and takes on the burden of leadership.

On the other hand, a politician is more focused on short-term gains and personal interests. They are often driven by the need for re-election and by the pressures of the political machine. Politicians may not have a deep commitment to the nation's long-term goals, and they may be more willing to compromise their principles in order to achieve their aims.

In essence, the difference between a statesman and a politician lies in their perspective and their priorities. A statesman is someone who serves the public interest, while a politician is more concerned with their own advancement.

In Clark Meet

Jack Pyle, Highline's top cross country runner and second at last year's Clark County Meet, proved once again he is the real deal. Pyle won the 5K race at the Clark County Invitational held at Skagit Valley Junior College November 3. His time was 14:22 and the second place finisher came in 35 seconds behind Pyle. This was Pyle's third county meet win.

Pyle's coach, Bruce Martin, was pleased with Pyle's performance and said that Pyle has improved his running over the past season. Martin said that Pyle was fifth at the county meet last year and that his time was 14:57. Martin said that Pyle has improved his running form and has become more consistent over the past season.

Pyle's performance was not the only highlight of the meet. Highline also won the women's race with a time of 42:24. The women's team was led by Carol Bethel, who finished third with a time of 16:24. The women's team also included Susie Schwartz, Sherry Houser, and Phil Chin.

Money raised for the team will be used to help defray the cost of transportation and to help defray the cost of the team's trip to the state meet. The team will compete in the state meet on November 23 at Skagit Valley Junior College.

Intramurals Organizing

Highline intramural program is open to all high school students and will be offered this fall. The program is open to boys and girls and will offer a wide variety of sports for students of all skill levels. The program will be offered from October 30 to December 11 and will be held at the school's gymnasium.

A highlight of the program will be the intramural games. The games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:00 PM. The games will be open to all students and will be a great way to meet new people and have fun.

Ski Club

The ski club has been formed at Highline Community College and will be offered this winter. The club will be offered from December 1 to March 31 and will be held at the school's ski area.

A highlight of the club will be the intramural games. The games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:00 PM. The games will be open to all students and will be a great way to meet new people and have fun.

It seems that students, faculty, and administrators on this campus remain to have many bad notions about Highline SDS. As a member of SDS I shall now attempt to straighten out some of these images.

In answer to those who feel SDS at Highline will only bring riots and destruction to the campus, I say you are being misled. Highline SDS will never start fires, break windows, or even pick a blue blade off grass while they play. SDS has said before and I say to you again, we do not believe in violence of any kind. We shall work by all legal means and regulations as set forth by the administration. It is possible for us to change the minds of those now in ignorance. That is exactly what we plan to do.

Students at this college are perfectly free to name their club as they see fit. If students at Highline wish to call their organization SDS then so be it. As students they have every right to do so. It is not necessarily the requests that will be made to the administration in the way of changes here at Highline. It will be up to the entire membership and the students of this institution to decide what formal requests they want to make to the administration in the way of changes here at Highline.

The first meeting of this student forum, held in the lounge October 25th at noon. This was sponsored jointly with the high school student council and student members of this college. There were a number of speakers who went to such trouble as the student council. The forum was decided to make the administrative changes. The forum went to such trouble as the student council. Inhalation Therapy Offered

Take a deep breath. And, if you need help — especially if you are on the operating table — you may be assisted by an inhalation therapist, a relatively new member of today's medical and surgical team.

It is a shortage of inhalation therapists. Highline Community College this year is offering a course in Inhalation Therapy in cooperation with the University of Washington Hospital. The course is directed by Mrs. Doris E. Woller, RN, coordinator of health occupations at Highline.

The inhalation therapist is one of the newer members of the paramedical profession which has evolved in the past few years to serve physicians and surgeons as medical technicians who have become more and more complex, Mrs. Woller explained.

Those who successfully complete the program — two years of nine-month courses — will work at Highline and a third year of clinical training at the U. of Washington Hospital. The course is directed by Mrs. Woller. The requirements will vary.

"A therapist will be awarded an Associate Degree in Applied Science, and upon completing the clinical work a certificate will be awarded by the medical director of the University Hospital Pulmonary Therapy Department. Both are necessary for national registration.

Inhalation therapy is used primarily in the treatment of lung and heart ailments. Therapists work in all areas of the hospital including surgery, medicine, pediatrics and obstetrics. They work along side nurses but are directed by an independent department, usually the department of anesthesiology or of chest physicians.

Much of the instruction will be given by Mrs. Frances Krop- perskold, both a registered nurse and registered inhalation therapist, formerly chief pulmonary therapist at the University Hospital.

"While the course work is rigorous and the responsibilities of a therapist are high," commented Mrs. Woller, "the rewards also are high and the field is expanding rapidly."

Twenty new students will be accepted in the fall quarter. Applications and information about registration are available now at Highline College. Four students are returning this fall to start the second year of instruction.

Admission to the program requires a high school graduate with a 2.0 grade average. The course is open to men and women, married or single. Additional information may be obtained at the college admission office.

In a recent article written in the THUNDER WORD stressing the urgency of a stop light on Highway 99, just off 240th going east, there were encouraging words seeming to give the hope for a stop light in the near future.

This situation, an increasing problem, as more cars are turned out every year and more people are moving to our area not to mention the usual one. Being very much pressed by the City of Renton officials, the problem does not seem to start at the college itself. In fact, in an attempt to equalize the constant flow of cars at certain periods of the day, the Renton College Police direct traffic, although in vain.

Beauitiful and its vicinity, where weather is very unpredictable, is well known for early morning fog or rain or both. Under the right circumstances, fog, rain and a frustrated person, whether he be a student or a worker, this intersection can be and sometimes is a dangerous haven.

Elect A Statesman Or A Politician?

Let's examine the “differences” between Nixon and Humphrey.

Humphrey began his political career by going for help to the Republican Congressman Walter Judd and claiming he was a Republican who had voted for Harold Stassen and Wendell Willkie. In 1948, Republican senatorial candidate Richard Nixon sent every registered Democrat in California a handbill which began: "As one Democrat to another. Yet another Nixon handbill began: "Fellow Democrats. Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey are both famous anti-Communists. For example, Humphrey opposed the resolution which was to make the Communist Party illegal. In 1950, he told Micael Amslee, his friend biographer, that his proposal saved the seats of "Liberal" Senators who could claim they voted for him. A few days before the recent Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, "anti-Communist" Humphrey said we should stop worrying about Communism, that it was no longer an issue.

In 1964, Nixon became famous as an enthusiastic member of the Congressional committee which exposed Alger Hiss. In 1952, McCarthy supporter Nixon now persuaded McCarthy to call in 15 senators to investigate the CIA. The threat of a McCarthy-like investigation made necessary the introduction of the Senate Government, Nixon tried to gag Humphrey from the whole Communist issue.

In 1956, Nixon was telling an audience at Cornell University that investigations of Communism are no longer needed. In 1959, he said: "Domestic Communism is no longer a political issue." In the same year, Vice President Nixon during his "goodwill trip" to Moscow, apologized to Khrushchev for the resolution recently passed by Congress condemning Captured Nations Week. Nixon said: "This was a foolish resolution," thereby endorsing the enslavement of millions.

Humphrey's strong support of the United Nations need not be proved; all you have to do is look. As Congressman Richard Nixon introduced a resolution calling for establishment of a U.N. police force. So he is too strong for the United Nations and even in the U.S., which could supercede our own. He is so far to the left that he favors repeal of the Connally Reservation — which if accomplished would legally allow that U.N. army of 200,000 to intervene in the U.S., as the Congressional leading Black Panthers have demanded.

To Paul Findlay, who introduced the latest Atlantic Union bill in Congress, Nixon wrote: "As Clarence Streit probably told you, I have supported this resolution for many years and I wish you every success in your effort." The Atlantic Union bill would surrender our national sovereignty to the United Nations, and there then be the Vietnam situation. In fact, Humphrey still isn't sure on how to handle.

And a small story in Mr. Johnson Administration's political. The differences concerning the Civil Rights Bill of 1964 within the American Bar Association called "an percent civil rights and mostly percent federal power good," said that Humphrey's acolyte Senator was floor man for the bill and Nixon, who was a supporter, called it a "great step forward.

Nixon, like Humphrey advocates the same destructive, Welfare State spending which has contributed to the complete wealthlessness of our money. On July 25, 1966, the Wall Street Journal said as follows: "He (Nixon) will accept it as prop, as a proposal to the Government in a speech in the House, some of the obligations which once fell to them individually, the path is straight from social security to medical care. In that sense the Roscvelt revolution is complete. Mr. Nixon, if elected will not commit the welfare state.

November 12, 1966, quotes Nixon as follows: "We are not going to be out bid. We can reach goals the so-called economic liberals of the Galbraith-ScMeesinger school can never reach..."

So there is the difference is that Nixon can spend the money better.

Finally the big difference, the Nixon registration bill is that Humphrey's is a Federal registration bill. Now if accomplished, would legally allow that U.N. army of 200,000 to intervene in the U.S., as the Congressional leading Black Panthers have demanded.

The switch from chins to paper plates in the cafeteria was imposed primarily in an effort to break even with expenses, asserted Mr. Donald F. Macleod, manager of services. The cafeteria is not subsidized, which translates into higher prices, he said.

Mr. George Burns, food services coordinating dean, explained that the cafeteria facilities were planned for a maximum capacity of 2,500 students.

Mr. Burns added that "they are still in the experimental stage and that more will be known after the first trial period at the end of October. "If we can reduce expenses, I want to go back into the food. Catering to the students' wishes is the main goal of the cafeteria staff. French fries sales have doubled since we've made French fries available, said Mr. Burns. Other specials include sandwiches, soups, tacos, and egg dishes. "We try to have at least one thing on the menu that will appeal to everyone," he said.

Cooperation of the students has been gratifying, according to Mr. Burns. "I think they have the student body for the reception of the cafeteria and they have given us and everyone else in our view the crammed conditions. They deserve a bonus. Any students who gains from the criticism would be welcomed and can be delivered to the cafeteria office," he concluded.

Why Join Mid-Mgt.

by Dick Derksen

When asked the purpose of the Mid-Management program, Mr. Ralph Tritleen said: "To develop leaders among our people. We cannot be employable at the end of the year. We can't be employable at the end of the year unless our team can employ 100 per cent of the jobs available in the last two years. We need a leader who can give direction.

The Mid-Management program is based on the practical aspects of business work, rather than on the theoretical emphasis of the four year college degree. Subject matter is based on the basic requirements, plus courses in salesmanship, the planning, marketing.

In addition to the academic program, Mid-Management supplements the student's training with small group seminars, and a work-training program. The seminars are a group learning experience with thirty students in each, under the guidance of one professor. It is pressing what the student has learned in the job. This feedback enables the student to learn from the experiences of others, while giving the student an extended data to complete the student's training.

The coordinated work training program is a project which is required to keep the student's training in Mid-Management. By completing this program, the student can enter the professional world with the knowledge and skills of the work-a-day world.

Each member of the Mid-Management program is re-quired to keep the Highline College Management Association active throughout his training period, which develops responsibility, initiative, understanding of the public, and participates in the constructive program that can lead to leadership and corporate leadership.

Catherine Hargis, a 21-year-old Highline College student body president, Boy Town, is this year the Regional Vice President of the Eastern Western Management Association. Mr. Wiesemann is another of the school activities, and his Mid-Management program is an annual visit to the University of Puget Sound to discuss the Mid-Management program in the form of a one week leadership training program.

Gets More Facilities

by Marcie Erkens

Three new facilities will soon be a useful addition to previous set equipment for the art and design classes.

In approximately two weeks these facilities, a large kiln and a glass furnace for fusing glass, will be an important part of the art class schedule.

Faculty member Helen Pavula will specialize in the use of the ceramic kiln while Ted Johnson and Jim Gardner will use the metal furnace as a burn-out for molds in casting, and for melting bronze 2nd at the University Washington Hospital from 1960 to present.

Gaylene Beshka, as an instructor in nursing. Nursing programs at Marymount College and Eastern University, and University of Washington, had been serving as a hospital nurse for three years.

Edward Olney

On Loan To State Board

Edward A. Olney, director of the Educational Data Center, highline was given a three-year leave of absence by the State Board for Community College Education which is "on loan" to the State Board for Community College Education for a research project of the state Board. This will be a recent meeting of Highline trustees.

Olney is in Olympia to assist the state board staff and the date processing advisory group, of which he is a member, with two other Highline faculty, Dr. Shirley G. Gordon, dean of instruction, and Anthony M. Wilson, dean of instruction.

S.W.E.A. Will Go

Into Schools

The best way to learn is through experience. With this in mind, the Students Will Enter World Affairs, or S.W.E.A. is starting its teaching/ training program which will give students actual teaching experience in elementary or junior high schools.

The training program is open to all students who wish to join. The first class meetings are at 1:00 p.m. Monday's room 585, block 3.

Also on the club agenda is a trip to the school newspaper and films and discussions on education.

Cheerstaff Numbers 6 Girls, 2 Boys

This year, Highline is in for a top performance from its cheerstaff. It is made up of six girls and two boys. Each of its members has served on a cheer squad before.

This year, three of Highline’s high school leaders returned, Sue Schwartz, Kathy Elliot, and Sherry Houser. The others on the staff are Lynda Ellingson, Carole Belth, Kat Denby, and Kathy Barker. Coach Doug Mccranagh is pointing hard at the upcoming state championship meet to be held at Skagit Valley Community College in two weeks.

Active Season Ahead
For Highline Skiers

The ski season is fast approaching, and Highline skiers have formed a club in anticipation of the forthcoming winter months. Ski Club began its new season of activities with the election of club officers. Joe Hackenberg is the new president, and Cathy Barker is the vice-president. Treasurer for this year is Cliff Collahan, and the secretary is Clare Wheeler.

At present, Ski Club has about 100 active members, and they are planning a series of meetings and get together on the fun and action. In addition to club business, news, and shop talk, their meetings have large and colorful films on Aspen and Big Mountain. Twenty lady members will get to test the first snow of the season with Pop Club and Hiking Club, in an overnight trip to Mount Baker on November 2 and 3. Plans are already underway for social activities such as ski excursions, a possible trip to Jackson Hole or Big Mountain, and a big ski show. They will be presented in conjunction with Alpines who best every team’s ski apparel and exciting films.

This year ski club is offering T-shirts for its members. Also, for any interested Highline students, a fun and action task for the devoted runner. It takes place every Sunday at one half mile day. The course is on the Thoroughbred and the one mile at the Lewis and Clark Bowl. In the fifteen mile run, there is a special event for those interested in running.

These intramural sports are an important part of the Highline students’ life to keep their trim figures in shape. They offer an alternative to diets, and to gain skills an understanding of the exciting world of sports.

Jack Pyle Wines;
T-Birds Second
In Clark Meet

Jack Pyle, Highline Community College sophomore, took the individual honors by capturing first place in the Clark Community College Invitational Cross Country meet last weekend. Pyle came in seventh seconds ahead of his nearest opponent, Tom Keine, of Mount Hood.

The Thunderbirds were able to defeat the Oregon community college however, and placed second in the field of nine teams. Mount Hood tallied 45 points while Highline posted 31. Following the two leaders were Yakima Valley BLC, Tacoma 115, Bellevue U., Portland, Clackamas, Parkrose, and Columbia Lake.

The nearest team mate for Jack Pyle was Steve Peterson who finished fourth. Seventh place was taken by Rick Hab- ren, who best every team’s number one man except Highline. Mount Hood, and Yakima Valley. Jim Herold was next for the T-Birds, capturing third place with 35 points. The other members of the team were Charlie Smith, Dave Sokol, Larry Oberholtzer, and Mike Armstrong.

Jack began his running career as a sophomore at Highline. He was a high school star and the first season he had limited success in cross country and track but trained hard. This training paid off in his junior year as Jack captured first place in the state championship meet and the team placed second in the state championship meet.

"If at any time I didn’t like running," Jack said, "I will think of the great pride and devotion that my dad, Jack Pyle, has for this sport. I want to be the secret to his success? I think I am.

Jack proved his all around ability in athletics by lettering in basketball. His success was well deserved as he showed an all around interest in school and sports.

Throughout the track season Jack ran the mile and two mile. His best mile time was 4:22, which was one of the best in the state. In the two mile Jack set the pace for the two mile race with a time of 9:24. He was invited to the Seattle Invitational Indoor Track Meet and made an excellent showing in the two mile race with a third place finish.

In his second year at Highline College he has again proved his great ability in athletics. Last year he placed ninth in the state cross country meet. He also took ninth in the mile run that year’s state track meet.

"I had to find a way to work on this task," Jack said. "I had to find a way to train and work on this task." He trained hard and worked on this task for the devoted runner. He trained every day and took every opportunity to get in the shape of a runner.

Jack has already been offered several scholarships by four year college. His superb efforts in competition and sportsmanship are to be honored. Highline skiers good luck to Jack in the coming state meet to be held at Skagit Valley Junior College.
If someone came up to you and asked where you would have liked to be for the past two weeks, what would you say? Hawaii, Paris, Spain, Japan, Germany, or perhaps England. You take those places but I'd take Mexico where the 1968 Olympic games are being held. No place in the world could match or even come close to supplying the entertainment and talent that Mexico has had in its boundaries since the games started.

Watching the Olympics on television failed to stop the personal excitement from coming across to me. My body was possessed by a weird tingling sensation which ran through my body as Bob Seagren attempted a pole vault of 17'2" and made it. As Kaye Hall swam the 100 meter backstroke and won a Gold Medal and especially as Jim Ryun became the 'fastest human' in the world beating Charlie Greene in the 100 meter dash. Just think of the accomplishment of these people even if they never do another thing they've be remembered.

In the Olympics they award only three medals in each event: a gold, a silver, and a bronze so naturally not everyone can be awarded a medal. In the Olympics I don't think that anyone can be classified as a loser—some just win bigger than others. To even be in the Olympics YOU HAVE TO BE A WINNER. I can think of no greater thing in this world than that of participating in the Olympics and I think if you can either.

Tommy Smith and John Carter's expedition from the Olympic games was one of a lifetime and a mistake of the United States Olympic committee. It's true that the Olympics is really no different than college but it was good to do their S.O.S. anyone. I think not. The U.S.O.C. made too much out of too little. This was not a case of young people being black and not deserving of all the world's greatest gymnasts would turn their head and look to the ground when the Russian flag was raised. Tommy Smith and John Carter have been members of the United States committee and have been the only American athletes, great athletes competing against each other. To those of you that feel as I do other Americans, I say)

"Pick" the athletes and take the money. If the coaches were to receive only a third place finish in the state college championships this year, Gene is the number 4 man on the very fast Hurricane team. Along with cross country, he is a member of the track and swimming team and is a city mile relay and half mile for track and competes in the 1800 and 3800 meter swimming events. Training for his senior year usually mean 2 hours of exercises and running a day, with some days as much as 7 miles on Saturday, and then finishing his rigorous week by running 20 miles on Sundays. During the summer he keeps in shape by running and swimming, and working as a beach director in Lake Wilderness. Other activities include road race events in the winter, and state cross country championship during the summer. Gene will attend Central Washington State College next year, where he hopes to continue his cross country and track career.

Gene Reese Harrier Aid

Gene Reese is a member of Don MacDonald's "significant Seven", which is carrying the Thunderbirds into the battle for the state cross country championship. Gene is an amazing competitor of cross country and dedication.

He is now a sophomore at Highline in his second year of cross country. He is a graduate of Chief Seattle High School where he began running as a junior. By his senior year, he was selected as team captain and awarded a Program Proven runner. In his first two years of cross country competition, Gene was an All American for two state high school meets.

After a successful high school career, the Seattle runner came to Highline on a scholarship and soon proved that the athletic expectations had indeed turned into a winner. He continued to succeed at Highline, and this fall and winter he is a second place finisher in the state junior college championships. The proud place finish is the number 4 man on a very fast Hurricane team.

The Harrier Aid is about the first time fund raiser ever held to help get the Hurricane Track and Field Program on the map. Any number of reasons why we need this money. First, the Hurricane's have never had a team manager or assistant coach. This fall we are going to have a team manager and a second coach. Second, the Hurricane's have never had enough money to purchase the essential equipment needed to enable us to compete at a higher level of excellence. Third, we have never been able to pay our share of the meeting fee. This fall we hope to be able to send our team to all the meets that we want to.
Enrollment Hits New High: 5,377 Registered for Fall

The fall quarter at Highline College started off with a record of 5,377 students registered for the semester. The college is currently in the process of establishing a new building for the science program, located on the corner of 165th and Gray, which will open in fall 1969. The new building will provide more classroom space, including new science labs and facilities.

Specials Get Classes By Mail

The Specials Get Classes By Mail program provides a variety of courses for students who cannot attend classes on campus. The program is designed to accommodate students who live far from the college or who have work or family obligations that prevent them from attending classes in person. The program offers courses in art, music, and various other subjects.

Excavations To Drown Unless Objectors Appeal to President

Objectors are appealing to President Richard Nixon to prevent the construction of a new road near the campus. The proposed road would be used to transport material for the new science building and would require the construction of a new bridge. Some residents are concerned that the road will disrupt the campus's peaceful environment.

Registration

Set Nov. 12

Registration for the fall quarter is scheduled for November 12th. Students should register for classes as soon as possible to ensure their availability. The college offers a variety of courses, including business, science, and humanities.

"Help Center" For Health

The "Help Center," located in the Health Center on the lower level of the classroom building, is open for students who need assistance with health-related issues. The center provides services such as checking and supplying of first aid materials and apparatus, a wheelchair, and a complex of two oxygen apparatus.

New Road Open To Parking Lot

The new road to the parking lot has been completed and is now open. Visitors are encouraged to use the new road for easier access to the campus.
