Public Interest Saves Excavation From Flood

The tides were turned after all, for the Marmes Site. In response to the plea for letters to the President protesting a dam which would flood the early man excavations in Eastern Washington, Highline College and community sent about 700 such letters to the White House. And the President saw their point. On November 2 a cofferdike was started which will surround the site, protecting it from the flood which would otherwise have drowned it when the dam was opened.

The Marmes Site, which has turned up skeletons and artifacts of man's existence as far back as 13,000 years, can now become a national monument.

I would like to express my thanks to the faculty, student body and staff for their concern," commented Mr. Donald McLarney, who was responsible for circulating notices which brought the situation to public attention.

"Those who wrote will receive official notice from the Office of the Chief of Engineers of the Army in Washington D.C., he added.

Dr. Perry Wins GOP Post

November fifth, election day 1968, not only proved fruitful for Richard Nixon, but also for Highline's Dr. Henry E. Perry. Dr. Perry won the Republican post of Precinct Committeeman from the 43rd legislative district, 82nd precinct. He polled 83 votes against his opponents 35.

Dr. Perry was asked to run for this post to challenge the King County Republican leadership. Members of the moderate wing of the party have felt since 1964 that the leadership had shown a disregard to their views and participation in King County Republican affairs.

Closed caucuses and a lack of communication with all party members were two factors in Dr. Perry's decision to run.

Dr. Perry said, "The policy of the Republican party leadership should be less exclusive and more inclusive." He also had personal reasons for running.

"A political scientist runs the risk of losing touch with reality if he does not remain active in grassroots politics," Dr. Perry said.

When asked about student participation in politics, Dr. Perry said, "The same considerations apply to students. Campus political activity will often carry over into adult life. Many campus activists become solid, useful citizens. We need far more than we have right now." He cited the example of Congressman Brock Adams who gained political power as president of A.S.U.T.E. University of Washington.

Realizing that my position taken in the October 10th Horoscope published in the Highline College Thunder Word was not only a poor choice of terms and format but also violated a high journalistic ethic, I am taking this opportunity to make my apology to all offended by the paragraph under Sagittarius.

The first paragraph was only intended as an exposition or explanation in accordance with the above mentioned position. I realize that this was not the case and I am here apologizing to all affected by the paragraph.

I only hope that solutions to the problems between the newspaper and the Afro-American Union can be reached and that in the future, we can work for the mutual benefit of both black and white.

Starch & Pepper

I was one of the privileged 2000 or so who made it to Empire West to see the Deep Purple from England. It was a performance worth reviewing, as will.

I got to the show late and was unable to see the full set of Mother Tucker’s Yellow Dog from Vancouver. I heard two songs from the new release “Kentucky Woman.”

A long intermission followed their performance and at about 9:30 Deep Purple came on stage. It was quite evident that their sound was better.

Deep Purple played until about 11:00 and did such numbers as “Hello,” “Hysteria,” “Hey Joe,” and “Smoke on the Water.”

After their performance a short movie produced by Jim Morrison was shown. It was the music of “Unknown Soldier” and the sound was good and proved to be better than expected.

The atmosphere at the Counseling Center is very relaxed.

Tool To Shape Up Students

At last month, after many years of searching, the College has found the perfect tool for keeping the students in shape. This tool, called the Universal Gym, is located at the end of the hall and is currently being used by all the physical education classes.

The Universal Gym is designed to aid in body development. Dubbed by one user, "Van the Mechanical Master," the Universal Gym offers eight ways to build body brawn. It has handles, rings, rods, pulleys, and machines that allow users to work at their own pace.

Highly regarded by the Physical Education Department, the Gym is a gentleman in all respects. For the purpose of building a better body laster, Van -- or Gym is an all-purpose machine. It takes up little space. It is safe to operate and handy but by no means least he is virtually maintenance free.

This reporter, hoping to see this mechanical marvel in operation, visited the fitness classes jointly taught by Mrs. Mary Com- mard and Mr. Dan Knowles. While the girls cautiously worked their way around the different stations, Mrs. Com- mard assured them that "Gym" would do wonders for their figures but would not (thank goodness) build up their biceps.

After the girls abandoned the machine for the last ar- duous task of stripping repas from the machines, it was a sight to see them at it with a will. They huffed and puffed and pushed and pulled. Looking at approximately, Mr. Knowles, our hardbodied and very physically fit basketball coach said, "This is a real fun ma-

Hoping to catch some of the comments of the men, I approached the "services" as they left the floor. They were speechless.

Marilyn North Resigns

ASB Executive Board recently accepts the resignation of ASB Secretary Marilyn North. Miss North, who resigned from the position in Student Government, due to personal reasons, is attending the Career Development Program.

ASB Sec. Marilyn North Resigns

Dear Editor:

I am one of the many students who have been working hard for the past year to improve the ASHCC Student Government. I have been proud to be a part of this organization and I would like to express my gratitude for the support and encouragement I have received.

The leadership of the Student Government has been excellent. The officers have been dedicated and hardworking. I have learned a great deal from them.

I want to thank my fellow students for their support. I have enjoyed working with all of you and I will miss our interactions.

I hope that the new officers will continue to work hard and make our Student Government even better.

Sincerely,

Marilyn North

P.E. Protest

Dear Editor:

When I first went to college, the protest was set in motion. Now that it is over, I am about to close the generation gap.

Last spring I enrolled at Highline and began working toward an AA degree. When I registered, I was entering a college that was totally new to me. After reading what was required of me in Physical Ed- ducation before I can graduate.

All academic freedom is one of the most important prop- erties of all. The communists at Highline are students in their greatest triumph. For contains the double-bladed sword, or forked tongue, has always been the most ef- fective weapon of communism. This "student movement" is a sham, it is controlled entirely by communists.

Wake up and smell the coffee! Take pride in your school, your country and your flag. Use some sense reason- ing and separate the chaff from the wheat. Defend SDS at Highline Community College as unworthy of responsible, na-"n".

- John R. Eads

I Don't Agree

Dear Editor:

(Producer's Note: The following is in reply to John Eads's letter against SDS.)

Just to clarify, I don't disagree with you on this letter because it once again points out the apparent lack of understanding of the political and economic policies of our country, not to mention your total ignorance of SDS. I would ask you to do two things, first read a few books by reliable and reasonable writers and secondly read the SDS constitution and the purpose of the organization.

I think it is a shame for you to read a few books on economic and education reforms.

I can see from your letter that you are one of the vast number of paranoids, that is the students at your school are not used to being coddled. I think there is a real fun ma-

Let me remind you of a few things about our society. Three of the highest rated universities in the country (Cambridge, Oxford, and Paris) were started by disen- chanted students who went out and hired their own professors.

You talk about double-bladed swords and forked tongues as the most effective weapon of communism, isn't that what your whole philosophy is? After all, SDS has no clear cause. It has only a vague little boy cry. I do not think it is fair to take away a right from SDS (the right of free expression) as the constitution of the United States grants every indi- vidual and organization. You ask others to wake up; I ask you to wake up from your world of fantasy and make a better world.

Sincerely Yours,

SDS President David Israel

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE
Keep Washington Green; Landscape Our Campus

OUTRIGHT DANGEROUS — Usually, walking around campus isn't, or shouldn't be, too dangerous, but if you value your life, don't stand in a spot like this too long or you may never be heard from again. Photos by John Nelson.

FIRE PLUG sticks out like a sore thumb next to the barren wasteland lying between one of the science buildings and Faculty A. You can't even mow the weeds because of all the rocks.

LOOKS LIKE a road grader went through there. If you like looking at rocks and weeds, you'll have a perfect view from your classroom. If you like looking at landscaping, you'd better keep your eyes shut most of the time.

WHAT A ROSE — This beautiful bank, adorned with mud, rocks and weeds, has been the downfall of many a polished shoe.

IT'S TOO BAD that one of our newest and most beautiful buildings, the Performing Arts Center, has to be complemented by such shoddy landscaping — no landscaping at all.

ONE OF THE MOST SPOTs on our campus is down by the pavilion. They've planted grass on a new practice field for PE, but evidently someone doesn't think beauty is as important as physical education. True, no one skids their knees on these rocks, but they're an awful eyesore.

NEW SWIMMING AREA — These beautiful pools of black mud, adorning our upper campus, probably will be used, by accident, in the future as swimming holes for unruly students. If it keeps raining, it might even be worth calling the Dept. of Fisheries to see about possibilities of planting trout.
HCC Attracts Younger Set

If you pass by room 206 in Building C at Highline Community College, you will hear voices enthusiastically singing "London Bridge Is Falling Down" and "The Mulberry Bush". A music playpen set, who meet here daily, are young college students, who play favorites. And well they should, for their "student" range in age from two to about a mile from the campus.

Deseret Club Organized at Highline

Deseret Club has been meeting every Monday at noon as a part of a national organization for the past four years. This fall, better facilities are obtained, all meetings will be held at a private residence about a mile from the campus at 2500 S. 128th Pl. The meetings are open to all members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and have been meeting to discuss religious and social topics of the day. Each meeting has a guest speaker.

The students, who mainly are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, have been meeting together to discuss religious and social topics of the day. Each meeting has a guest speaker.

The Deseret Club is trying to provide intellectual stimulation to the community, through its weekly meetings. This month's feature teams pants with another style favorite - a vest with a chain button-guarded closure. The vest of colored suede is worn on a plain, high-necked, black pants. The outfit is enhanced by a creamy white turtleneck sweater and matching buttoned vest. Accepted by "cheeky" buttoners with brass buckle, this eye-catching ensemble certainly be a handsome addition to any Highline student's wardrobe.

The center opened last year to care for preschool children of students and anyone seeking more information on the center should contact Mr. Philip H. Swantenberg, Coordinator of Student Activities, whose office is in the S. 128th Pl. The center is camp outside Portland.

Circle K Club Begins Fall Meetings

Highline College's Circle K is a service organization for college men, operating on campus. It is a leadership and character building group which serves the community where it is located. Circle K is an organization for college men of all races who provide a means for the same type of leadership in a college community which is giving to the community.

This year's Circle K officers are John Eads, President; Dorothy Watsch, vice president; and Bob Scholtis, secretary-treasurer. Club office hours are from 9 to 5 and 12 to 1 daily in the Student Government offices, and anyone seeking more information, or wishing to join, are invited to stop in during these hours.

A Witch On Campus

Judging from a law enacted in 1790, I feel safe in saying there is many a witch on our college campus! The law reads: "All women of whatever age, rank, profession - whether virgins, maidens or widows - who shall be guilty of any of the witchcraft practices of the male subjects, by virtue of the artifices of witchcraft, false hair, false teeth, powdered hair, or high-heeled shoes, shall incur the penalty of the law now in force against witchcraft - and the marriage shall be null and void. Fortunately today, despite our use of false eyelashes, hair pieces, false nails, and any other hair, we are in no danger of being burned at the stake!"

Highline Helps Acquaint Judges, Prepare Divers

Highline Community College hosted a diving clinic in preparation for the coming swimming season. The event was held Nov. 2 and was sponsored by Highline College, Greater Seattle Diving Association, Pacific NAAU and the Highline Swim Club. The purpose of this meeting was to acquaint judges with the principles in scoring dives. The dives were performed by members of the Highline swim team and the U of W swim club. A scoring chart was given to each dive by the new judge. This gave the judges a chance to acquaint themselves with the scoring procedures. These newly picked judges would almost swim meets throughout the state. They are all volunteers and most of them have had previous experience in swimming and diving.

Highline Helps Acquaint Judges, Prepare Divers

The participants were subjected to actual competition with their scores given as to how they were progressing for the coming season.

The judges graded the dives by a point system from 6 to 10 points on each dive. The first place would be held in late December. This would give the judges and divers plenty of time to correct mistakes for the coming season.

SPORTS OF SORTS

BY LYNN BENNETT

Friday night at 8 p.m. our cross country team left Highline College for the state meet that was the following day. They stopped in the town of Sedro-Woolley where they met the team that was to be part of this team. At the end of the day they were ready and put themselves on the road to the state. They were all at the school and our coach and cross-country team went to sleep, perhaps to dream of what would be tomorrow.

By 8:30 everyone was up and had eaten breakfast. At 8:30 they drove in the Skagit Valley Community College where the meet was to be held that afternoon. At five in one the thirteen teams and eighty-three individuals assembled at the starting point.

The sun was shining when one of the cars was given the signal and the race that would determine STATE CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONS started.

Before the race Highline runners applied Vaseline to their shoes because the purpose being to keep the mud and water out of the shoes and also to keep them from getting teary. This protection didn't last long on the course that they were running.

"We had a first place meet and it was a good meet. It was a shame it was under water," said Frank De Ruyter. "Of course everyone ran under the same conditions and there were no advantages or disadvantages."

It was definitely the worst course," said Larry Oberheider fullSeriously. "There were 3 to 4 inches of water right at the start of the race and these runners had to run this in.

Jack Pyle had this to say about the course, "The first place was ridiculous."

Coach McConnaughey when asked if he gave any special advice to the team said, "Yes, just run fast."

I think everyone who ran on the Stagl course that day would agree that it was the muddiest and wettest 12 miles that they've ever run.

Riley Shirley of Seattle led through most of the race and fin- ished it with a winning time of 19:46. Bill Bloom of Spokane finished next in 19:46, Rick Hebron who ran third of the year was the second in 19:55 and Mike McConaughy finished third in 19:55.

"We ran the best we have ever run in competition," said Coach McConnaughey. "I thought Seattle had reached their peak but they ran the best they've ever run. By this, I mean they would do better if we could beat them." Coach McConnaughey also said that the team had suffered be- cause of the mud and the rain and that they were not up to their peak. They had five sets that placed in the top ten for a total of 21 points. Bill Bloom and Jack Pyle both helped pace him. "The mud slowed everyone down more, I just trailed out. Next track season I plan to be up to par," were his cryptic words. Larry Oberheider was embarrassed to show up off the mud that literally covered him from head to toe.

"We are up to our necks in mud," said Coach McConaughy. "I thought Seattle had reached their peak but they ran the best they've ever run. But it was a great race and I would have won with Jim running, but it would have made a difference."

DeRuyter Places

BY LYNN BENNET

"I feel that cross country is more an individual sport. It isn't like basketball where it takes a team to set up a play. It's an individual effort," said Frank DeRuyter, number 4 on Coach McConnaughey's cross country team.

Frank graduated from Federal Way High School where he participated in cross country and did a "fair deal" in his running. He could have run in the Thunderbird Invitational last year, but the coach and Frank decided to wait for the State meet. Frank ran in the State meet and came in 7th in a field of 500.

"I did as well as I could do," Frank said. "I think that I can speak on behalf of the whole team. We are proud of our 1968 cross country team."

He injured his knee a week before the Centralia meet and missed the Clark Invitational and Thunderbird Invitational also. While undergoing treatment he was allowed to jog and after a week and a half he was running full strides. He could have run in the Thunderbird Invitational last year, but the coach and Frank decided to wait for the State meet. Frank ran in the State meet and came in 7th in a field of 500.

Highline Sweeps C.C. Meet

Fifty-three cross country runners from eight different teams competed in the Thunderbird Invitational meet Saturday, November 7. The Highline cross country team, in addition to running long, muddy, wet and very slippery, also faced a cross country race like other athletic endeavors, places many demands on its participants. Along with the requirement for superb physical condition any muscle fatigue, runners must also be mentally-up for an event. Before any race, you will find Rick going over the course with the grain look of concentration on his face, as he plans his race strategy. In picking this sport he said, "It isn't so much natural ability as it was plain hard work." Anyone that knows anything about this field will know what he has done that. Larry Oberholtzer, Highline's senior cross country runner for three seasons, and he has aided immeasurably in bringing the team to a college cross country team. Oberholtzer has been a very strong and consistent performer with a total of 250 points.

In Bellingham the City College basketball team has a few more pre-season workouts before they open the season against the University of Puget Sound. Coach Don Knowles has talked about the improving ability of his team, and he adds that they seem to be more determined to do better this year.

The team's line-up will include six returning players including Steve Packard, who will get a lot of attention from the opponents. The rest of the team will have to improve in their game to catch up with the leaders. Coach Knowles has been working on their weaknesses and teaching them to play as a team.

Pilots Announce Schedule

Seattle. The Seattle Pilots have announced their schedule for the upcoming season. The team will play against some of the best in the league including Cleveland, Oakland and the San Francisco Giants. They will also face some tough opponents such as the Braves and the Angels.

The team will start their season on March 15th in Tempe, Arizona. They will then travel to San Francisco for a three-game series against the Giants. The Pilots will then return home to play against the Braves and the Angels.

The Pilots have also announced that they will hold a short scrimmage against the Padres' "B" team on February 21st. The team will hold a full-squad scrimmage on March 1st.
