Health Services

The sign over the ground floor doors reads, "Health Services 101. Behind these doors the quiet, unobtrusive rooms serve a dual purpose. 1. The Health Center is its primary aim, the education of the students in the field of health. Those students enrolled in a training program and the facilities for Inhalation Therapy training and testing is available. 2. Anyone on campus has the privilege of using the Health Service facilities. First Aid only is provided in the Center. A First Aid student, familiar with the procedures, is on duty at all times. A registered nurse is on duty Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Students are on hand to help, but Mary F. Busse, R.N., and Health Counselor, are on call at all other times. A dental clinic is on call for emergencies. A Phlebotomist is on duty Monday through Thursday, from 8 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The University Hospital has a Phlebotomist available. What Is Communism

By Lyse Leiser

What is Communism? Is it a political party, or a way of life? To many people this is exactly what Communism is. But Communists in Russia today see it as a complex religion. Freedom To Learn

by David Israel

The freedom to learn depends on appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus, and in the community. It is essential to create an atmosphere where students can explore their own world and examine all questions of interest to them. The freedom to learn is not allowed to a robot. It is essential that students be allowed to express themselves, discount the ideas of the other, and think for themselves, then they will be the guardians of free inquiry and free expression.

Libraries Offers New Experience

The Highline College Library can easily be called the most vital and active center on campus. Under the direction of Dr. Joni Martin, the Library boasts nearly thirty thousand volumes and a staff of forty. Of these, forty are students, and four are professional librarians. They combine to offer the Highline student expert reference material in every aspect of learning. The Library system can easily be called the most vital and active center on campus. Responsible Dissent

by Dick Dykenson

In the last column a foundation was proposed, and justification made for the possibility of dissent. If this basis is accepted, as is the lack of criticism indicates, then an examination of the area is in place. Such a discussion would be beneficial.

Two organizations exposing similar ideals, are the Students For a Democratic Society, and campus Christian Ministries. The constitutions for each organization claim to be for the most part, a group of young people concerned with student rights and social reform. But study the problems, and propose constructive alternatives. Instead of antagonizing the power structure, C.C.M. becomes a part of the structure, and the struggle.

The S.D.S. is a political party. The C.C.M. is a religious group. The C.C.M. is the only one of the two to have a full-time director. C.C.M., Graft Resistance, other campus organizations, faculty, and students, for example, must find a way to form on campus. Compounded by premature demonstrations, and irresponsible verbal and editorial statements, the S.D.S. at Highline has antagonized students and administration alike. Failure to reform and educate has made S.D.S. demonstrations meaningless and less than successful. If this organization has a responsibility, it looks the flaws in the academic structure, it is violating this, by its irresponsible actions.

Newly formed at the U. of T. the Campus Christian Movement, is interested in providing a leadership role in the student movement. The S.D.S. does not entertain the possibility of individual campus organizations becoming involved in the campus political struggle. But a large portion of the student problems, the C.C.M. has taken an active part in the campus movements. To C.C.M. it is a structure into which members of individual campus organizations may become involved. Because of this involvement, the S.D.S. must learn to work with the students. C.C.M. members make no demands, create no demonstrations, but study the problems, and propose constructive alternatives. Instead of antagonizing the power structure, C.C.M. becomes a part of the structure, and the struggle.

An example of C.C.M. activity will be a "Counseling Workshop," to be held February 4th at the Department of American History for students. C.C.M. is concerned with the relationship between the student and government, national and international. It is the last column in a series of workshops for the students, and is a part of the C.C.M. effort to form on campus. The responsible dissenter will foresee the roadblocks that may be in the way of his, her, and our way forward. The student, and the responsible dissenter, are on a new road forward. They are able to see its shortcomings. The responsible dissenter is concerned with the structure of the organization, or the changing of a name, then these actions must be done. If it is comfort and security, and not the power structure, then they should be. But study the problems, and propose constructive alternatives. Instead of antagonizing the power structure, C.C.M. becomes a part of the structure, and the struggle.

Conclusions

This has been an attempt to create two organizations who seek similar goals, but take different means to attain their ends. The obvious point is to cease the campus activism to assert his motives and methods, and interpret his intentions through the political party, or ir .way of life? Communism in Russia today is actu-

Wrestling Standouts - Pictured over are Lee Peterson (top) and Jimmy Rodriguez (lower), two wrestlers on which our team is counting to come out on top in homecoming activities. Both have perfect records.

Swimmers Out For First Win

Highline's swim team is hoping to grab its first win against the Washington State Frosh (top) on February 4. Coach Orphan says that the team has been greatly hurt by illness and injury this season. Washington State may also lose some of their swimmers before the meet due to the semester ending and student transferrals. The Thunderbirds have never won a meet against the Frosh before.

The team has had great potential, but so far they have been unable to come up with a win. Our best chance for victory will be in the breast stroke and the medley relay.

The T-Birds are a strong team, but the Frosh are at a disadvantage. Washington State has a very strong back-stroker that will be a tough one to beat.

There has been little support of the swim team this year. The team has an excellent chance to defeat the Cougars but with our support they are all but hopeless. The meet is at the poll at 3:30, Tuesday, February 7. Your support would be greatly appreciated.

Wrestlers Active

During homecoming week Highline wrestlers will have two home matches, one against Centralia, February 7 at 3 p.m. and the other against Green River on February 8 at 3 p.m. The T-Birds have a fantastic winning streak and have defeated last year's state champions twice. This season has been a tremendous success for Coach Datcher and his devoted wrestlers. They have been unable to come up with a win against the regulation court and will cause little trouble for our men.

Homecoming Game Slated February 8

Coach Dan Knowles will hold his first place Thunderbirds onto their home court to meet the 3rd Place Peninsula Pirates. This will be the second and final meeting for these two clubs during the regular 1968-69 season. The first encounter was a real shooting match, with the T-Birds out-running the Pirates 76-63. The Highline leaders broke 2 school marks and set a new State Junior College record on their way to victory.

This is to be the homecoming game on home court and with a full house expected. Expectations are running high. Homecoming festivities tend to produce unscrupulous tickets and standing-room-only crowds, and this game promises nothing less than pandemonium for Highline fans. Datcher, Thomas, and Clark all hit well over 50 points each in their first meeting with Peninsula, and in all probability this dazzling quartet shouldindeed find itself in a barrel of baskets. Besides the special significance of the Ken E. Yes' O' week game, the T-Birds should be aware of the fact that three home games remain to be played.

Coach Knowles has already prepared his battle strategy for shipping the Pirates. As always, we'll run an offensive and try to control the boards but we also expect to play a better defensive game. Expect your T-Birds to be an easy win. They are on the bottom of the ladder and will serve as coach for the women's team. This particular game, however, may end any hopes for a conference title. Larry is presently searching the campus for two women faculty members who would like to serve as referees. It is said that the women officials will be very strict with the men for unnecessary action under the boards, pushing-off, reach- ing around for the ball, and over-the-back fouls. As far as game participiants are concerned, all interested men and women can contact Larry in the student government office.

Pancake Breakfast Planned

If the forecast comes to you during the hours of 7:30 to 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, February 6, and your mouth starts to water just thinking of the feast, be sure to attend the Pancake Breakfast. The cost of this is only 50 cents a serving. Members of the Student Assembly will be passing out Pancake tickets during the week. They are also sponsoring a bonus with the Pancake Breakfast. The winners of the tickets will be announced at the Pancake Breakfast.

Homecoming Special

Kan’E Yas’ O’ Week

Dear Editor:

There will be twelve girls and twelve boys participating in this year’s Kan’E Yas’ O’ Week which will all participate in the crowning of the lovely ladies that will be the Master of Ceremonies for the 1969 Homecoming Festival. Among them are Miss Universe, Miss America, Miss Seattle, and several mayors of local communities.

The dinner will begin at 19:00, honoring the homecoming royalty and will include Chesterfield and Jitterbug contest featuring the music of the Yacht Club at the Sea Center. The dinner will consist of beef burgers, sausages, potatoes, vegetables, rolls, a beverage this will be followed by dessert. Providing background dinner-music will be the Paris Blue Band. Centerpieces will be 10 old fashioned car-case holding flowers. Ten of these centerpieces will be raffled off by the mystery guest so be sure to retain your ticket.

After a very scrumptious dinner the coronation will include the crowning of the 1969 Kan’E Yas’ O’ Queen and her court, as well as the crowning of the official 1969 Kan’E Yas’ O’ celebration. It will feature guest master of ceremonies ROMO TV’s "Good Morning" personality Len Sampson. A roaring twenties revue by the Bobcats will be part of a well planned coronation entertainment.

To add to the Boating Royale atmosphere, the Capital College crew will attend the happening that night. The Paris Blue Band will also play during the coronation, rhythmically providing the dance music.

The first coronation will be attended by the 1969 Kan’E Yas’ O Queen Sandra Rogers, Sophomore Princess Jeanne Kentock, and Fresh Princess Lisa Schwartz. The returning royalty will all participate in the crowning of the lovely ladies that will act as Master of Ceremonies for the coming year.

Andy Vandeberg, Wenda Collins, Kathy Sparks, Rod Rambauer, and Mrs. Margarit Rambauer who helped with the art work.

For those of you unable to attend the coronation and banquet, tickets are available for the "Queens Coronation Dinner" at only $5.00 per couple, which is still a bargain deal. So let us get it and ask all of your friends to come out for a night of fun and really participate not only in the dinner and dance and crowning of the lovely ladies, but also in the fun of the evening. See you there at the activities starting February 1st through the Saturday the 8th.

Sincerely,

Campus Politicians
Co-Sponsor 18 Year
Vote Campaign

A sudden found coalition between the Democrats and Republicans will work together on campus, in a campaign to influence the state legislature to vote for changing the voting age to 18. Following the general structure of the nationally organized Letter for Vote organization, sponsored by Everett Dickson and Mike McCarron, the Democratic and Young Democrats will actively campaign to change the laws in Washington.

President of the Y.D.A. Cody Braun, and president of the Y.D.A. Jack Appleage were asked by the 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote. A few of the reasons are that 30 per cent of the population is under the age of 21, with only four of these years able to decide the policies that govern it, this constitutes unequal representation. Eighteen-year-olds are capable of standing up for their country. 18-year-olds pay federal, state, and hidden taxes. Many marry before 18 and 21, by homes and pay property taxes. The campaign will take the form of a petition movement on campus, and throughout the state. A table will be set up in the lounge with information and people to answer questions, and give ideas on how to move the campaign into the local neighborhoods. Volunteers will also be sought to give a personal appeal to the local legislators. Trips to Olympia are also contemplated, to confront the legislature with their non-sensibility to pass this legislation. Governor Evans support of this measure should have a strong effect on the final outcome.

Goals of Society

Bigger and better bombs, faster airplanes, and the moon race are not the goal of our society. What are we working for? And why? Better and cleverer bombs to kill more people faster? What is the advantage of getting to New York in two hours instead of six? Must we be the first to do the thing the Man in the Moon? Aren't there enough problems here on earth to worry about? Two-thirds of the world's population goes to bed hungry, and yet the human race must go on.

To achieve a true peace such as poverty, colonialism, and illiteracy must be eradicated. We need to partake in the education of all peoples of the earth, to establish a common identity, a mutual love and compassion for all humans. Our world cries out for men of action, not just words.

No More F's At GRCC

By Lisa Estbed
Faculty members at Green River Community College endorsed a plan to eliminate "F" as a final grade. Students will still receive A, B, C, or D grades. Those who normally would receive failing grades will either withdraw, receive an incomplete, or be given a grade for the class. The purpose is to put emphasis on achievement rather than failure.

Natural Sciences
Expand

By Helen Martin
Like the old lady in the shoe, Highline College Natural Sciences Division, after four and one half years, has outgrown its original quarters on campus. Plans are now in the offing for remodeling and equipping the interior of the two present science buildings for maximum usage. Approximately $65,000.00 has been allocated for this conversion.

These sciences were housed in the South Science Building originally known as the Chemistry Drawing which recently moved into the Graphic Arts Building. The North building will be remodeled to house the life sciences (Biology, Botany, Microbiology, Geology, Anatomy and Physiology), and other sciences.

The South Science Building will be remodeled to house the life sciences (Biology, Botany, Microbiology, Geology, Anatomy and Physiology). This work will be in two phases. At the present time, the second floor of the South Science Building in June, work will begin on the North Science Building in June. Work will begin on the North Science Building in June. The renovation of the North Science Building will be ready for occupancy in the fall of the next year.

Most of the available areas within the new building will be reallocated to house the life sciences (Biology, Botany, Microbiology, Geology, Anatomy and Physiology) and other sciences.

Listening Workshops
In Session

To listen correctly, and interpret without prejudice, is the most important and least realized task of the successful college student. We all hear what we want to hear, despite the intention of the speaker, because of our prejudgments about the speaker at an instant. To correct this barrier from professor to student, speaker to audience, the Counseling Center has created the Listening Workshop. The Workshop is a non-credit course, lasts for approximately ten hours, and teaches you to listen and record notes more effectively.

Several Workshops are now in session, with the next one beginning Friday, 2-11-82, daily at 10:00, and another beginning Feb. 10-16, NWF at 11:00. There will be two sessions Feb. 17-22, daily at 10:00, and from Feb. 17-21, daily at 10:00.

Additional information on your participation can be obtained from the Counseling Center. There will be a minimal cost of $1.00 for this service.

Highline's Hairiest

By Steve Evans

Hair seems to be making a comeback, especially facial hair. Beards, mustaches and sideburns are becoming quite popular and pictured in this page are some of Highline's finest specimens. In doing this article, we didn't stop at just displaying these whiskers. We dug deeper to discover the reasons why and the answers were usually very interesting.

During our interviews we also heard a few "beard adventures." These are the unusual stories about life with a beard. The most interesting was one told to us by Adrian Sparks, second year drama major. Adrian was stopped recently for speeding on the freeway. When the officer saw the beard, he immediately asked Adrian if he was, "one of those students?" From the tone of the man's voice, Adrian realized that his only hope of avoiding a ticket was in which he did. The officer was so excited that the wasn't a student but an actor with the Seattle Repertory Theater and was late for rehearsal. The officer became very excited because he has recently seen a performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the Rep and asked Adrian if he was in the play. Our bearded student remembered seeing an actor with a beard playing the role of Theseus and told the gullible officer that he played that part. At hearing this, the officer was extremely pleased and after complimenting him on his performance, he told Adrian on his way, WITHOUT A TICKET!

We can't guarantee you an improved driving record if you grow a beard. We can't guarantee you'll even become a good liar, but you will be participating in one of life's most manly pursuits (rumor has it that a few women have grown beards, but that was never well hidden). Let's face it. The crew-cut, bare-faced days are long gone. Today's motto is let it grow.
Evening Student Survey Taken

Mr. George D. Durr, Director of Continuing Education, has recently completed a survey of evening students at Highline College. The survey was designed to obtain a better picture of the people Highline is serving and to link to a community college.

The survey produced a sampling of 752 male students, 456 female students. Forty percent of the students surveyed said they had attended Highline College previously, and only 40 percent were enrolled.

Seventy percent of the students sampled are taking one class; 11 percent, two classes, and 7 percent, three classes, and 2 percent, four classes.

As to their purposes for enrolling in the classes, the students listed the following:

- Employment and salary raise: 63 percent.
- Personal improvement: 46 percent.
- New skill or degree: 53 percent.
- Other: 27 percent.

Other information obtained from the survey:

- 88 percent of the students surveyed are 18 years or older.
- 80 percent of the students surveyed are married.
- The median income of the students surveyed was $7,500.
- 96 percent of the students surveyed are working toward an Associate Degree in Liberal Arts: 64 percent, and toward an Associate Degree in Business: 7 percent, and toward an Associate Degree in Teacher Education: 6 percent.
- Educational background of the students surveyed: 46 percent high school diploma, 47 percent grade 11 or 12, and 7 percent grade 10 or below.
- Less than a high school diploma: 15 percent.
- Attended college more than one quarter: 48 percent.
- More than one degree: 7 percent.

Mr. Durr said that next fall highline College will be enlarged and improve evening Highline's Data Processing Center.

Too Many People In ASB Offices

By Steve Fairchild

Measures are being taken by A.S.B. President Al Donaldson, who is an employee of the school, to reduce the amount of unintentional business that has been occurring in the S.A.S.B. Executive Office over the past few months. The office, he feels, has turned into something of a business office instead of a student office. A new extension of the Student Government will be created to handle all official business in the office. A new form of work will also be introduced. Student Government Officers will be responsible for the conduct and enforcement of the above regulations and individuals or organizations unable to comply are asked to designate representatives regarding compliance to ASB Executive Board.

Mr. Donaldson has also asked for a change in office rules for student government staff. A new rule will be introduced to the office rules regarding regulations and meetings held. The new rule will be as follows:

1) The Student Government Officer will be open between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. in the office. No one will be allowed in the office during this time unless a previous arrangement has been made with the ASB President, Student Government representative, or Student Activities Director.

2) The Student Government Officer will be expected to keep the office clean and organized, and will be responsible for the cleanliness of the office. The office will be closed at 4:00 p.m. daily.

3) The receptionist will be responsible for the conduct of the office and will be responsible for the enforcement of the office rules.

4) No loud or boisterous noise will be allowed in the office.

5) No loud or boisterous noise will be allowed in the office.

6) No loud or boisterous noise will be allowed in the office.

7) The telephones will be used for official business only. Any business, including the personal business of the students, will be handled by phone or by appointment only.

Veteran's Club Is Organized

A welcome addition to the Highline Community College campus is the newly formed Veteran's Club. The club was organized during the last quarter by Dennis Haley, the elected president. The organization was approved by the Student Activities Director, and will be responsible for the conduct and enforcement of the club's constitution as are follows:

1) The Student Government Officers will be open between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. in the office. No one will be allowed in the office during this time unless a previous arrangement has been made with the ASB President, Student Government representative, or Student Activities Director.

Secretarial Class Offers Many Skills

By Jane Vandezand

A bright future awaits those young co-eds who finish the two-year program, Office Occupations and Secretarial Training offered here at Highline. Besides becoming adept at the usual secretarial skills of shorthand, typing, business machines, and secretarial procedures, the students who complete this program will also be able to work on the varied studies of business, correspondence, business writing, business law, and business machines.

The two-year program culminates with a degree in Applied Science. At present a one-year certificate for Office Occupations is being proposed. Miss Powell explained that because there is a high percentage of transfer students who drop out of Highline after the first year, the certificate is more desirable for many secretarial students.

The secretarial program qualifies with a degree in Applied Science. At present a one-year certificate for Office Occupations is being proposed. Miss Powell explained that because there is a high percentage of transfer students who drop out of Highline after the first year, the certificate is more desirable for many secretarial students.

What's Your Draft Status

Many Highline maters will find themselves classified 1-A unless they are extremely careful with their service.

College counselors have been misinforming students as to the number of credits necessary in order to obtain a draft deferment. College students must maintain a total of 45 credits each year or they will be subject to the draft. Counselors are under the impression that only 36 credits are needed to stay out of military service but this is not so.

Due to the numerous mistakes concerning the draft deferments, many Highline College students have found themselves classified 1-A when they were supposed to receive a draft deferment. By now many students have been misled about draft deferments, and many others should use their local draft board.

Highline Student Sports Sunbeam

By Lyle Leiser

The European sports car has been looked down on for many years by the American public. But in recent years, new types of automobiles put on the speed and appear in the world. More people are becoming interested in racing. Automobile racing has become the second highest-attended spectator sport in the world. Now the sports car can be valued on what it was originally intended to do - be an easily manageable customer machine and be highly competitive on the race track.

A great little sports car in its own right is the Sunbeam Alpine. Highline student Dick Dykeman, owner of the Alpine, pictured above, said that it is a great feeling to slip in the car, and take off. It moves with your body. It's like a part of you.

This particular Alpine is dark blue, with a blue top interior. It is powered by a 2 liter overhead camshaft engine, and has a 4 speed, fully synchronized transmission. This engine is the biggest that Sunbeam has put out in the Alpine. The car has front wheel disc brakes, to "stop on a dime." For a small car it is extremely comfortable, even to a large person.

The Sunbeam Alpine is built by Rootes Group in England, and the Gardner-Corporation owns a controlling share of the stock. So, the Sunbeam Alpine gets Chrysler's 5 year, 50,000 mile warranty. It is the only imported car with such a warranty.

This is also the last year that Chrysler will import this particular model, so it might be a chance in a few years.

Recently, Dick is selling his Alpine, and he is an interesting, or know of someone who is looking for a good car. Dick can be reached in the 80-60 Journalism class.
