THE TREASURER

The Treasurer is responsible for all accounts for the financial transactions of the ASHC, supervises the finances of the student body level. The preparation of the yearly budget transactions of the ASHC, and supervises the money is not all the Treasurer does; she pick a person that responsibility as well.

THE ASHC SECRETARY

No, she is much more than just a typist; she is responsible for the recording of the minutes from the minutes of the Executive Board and other designated ASHC committees. The secretary also keeps correspondence up to date, organizes an adequate filing system, is the link for the ASHC and is the general "right-hand man" for the other officers. Typing will not help the secretary but as you can see that is not necessarily the most important qualification.

Film Series Starts Oct. 7 It's Free It's Varied!

A program of dramatic, documentary and experimental films will be shown free to all students, faculty and staff; one clock each Tuesday in the Lecture Hall. Mr. Jim Smith, Film Series faculty chairman, will be shown. This 1965 film is

Teddy at the Thrade

On Oct. 1, there will be one short, early film, one silent comedy called Teddy at the Theatre. The first sustained dialogue after the introduction of sound to the motion picture.

On Oct. 14, Flamingo's Wake will be shown. This 365 film is based on James Joyce's book, and translates the one night's dream world, the complex visual/novel verbal play of that book into filmic terms. It is the story of Flim, the Irish hero and all men, coming again. If Flim plus again Flimmingham. All his lurid observation and "wake" is taken in the form of cosmic consciousness.

On Oct. 21, another recent film will be shown: The Bridge. In the last years of World War II in Germany seven ill-trained teenage soldiers are courageously sent to guard a small bridge. Which, unknown to them, has no military value. Their faithful but brave efforts to neutralize the bridge is a moving anti-war statement.

On Oct. 28, Peter O'Toole and James Mason star in Lord Jim, a Technicolor adventure film based on Joseph Conrad's novel.

On Nov. 4, you can see a program of early silent shorts made by the innovative French film makers, just after the turn of the century. The program is called The Cabinet on Nov. 11. daytime Kaye leads those of you who were put off by the silent era to the World War II anti-war theme of The Bridge开朗ly through war and romance.

On Nov. 18, Mickey One features a pro-Russian and Clyde Warren Beauty. He plays a nightclub entertainer who falls upon the disfavor of the mob; someday a free world through war and romance.

On Nov. 25, there will be a program of three short features. In The Golden Fish Couteau's film world is enclosed by the walls of a goldfish bowl into which a little boy and a faggy afternoon when a boy finds a battered discarded tampon in an alley garbage can? The interview: reminder Mark Twain's western-inspired Scotty trying to arrange a funeral with an up-tight Eastern minister? In this short film a square mannoter and a hip hopser have similiar difficulty getting past each other's jargon.

For Dec. 2, the feature is Fall of the House of Usher, a 3d avant-garde, expressionistic treatment of Poe's story. On Dec. 9, only a six-minute film is scheduled on far: Treadle and Bobbin. Well worth seeing however, this beautiful color film visually analyzes the movements of the parts of the machinery and recreates them into a beautifully rhythmic composition.

President Greet Highline Students

Welcome to the busiest year at Highline Community College thus far. I extend this welcome on behalf of your President, Dr. Altman, and the Board of Trustees, as well as myself.

To date, enrollments have reached about 3,500 in day classes and 6,000 total students. Our concern is that the student in high need will not suffer in this year's competition for all classes and we have probably exceed 7,500 when all enrollments are complete.

There is an exhilarating beginning again to a new college year, and for all of us a new year may be an occasion for the student to challenge the old and try the new. The challenge is to study in order to win a thorough job of learning. To the faculty and administration it is a challenge to provide the best possible education.

No challenge is met without firm commitment. For us it is the committee's function to learn. For the faculty and administration, it is a commitment to evaluate and improve on what we are trying to do.
