Listening Sessions Planned for Highline's Presidential Search Public Invited to Sessions Across South King County

DES MOINES, Wash. — As part of its presidential search process, Highline College trustees will hold several listening sessions to learn what community members are looking for in the college's next leader.

Sessions are scheduled in several locations throughout South King County and are open to all:
— Dec. 4, 6:30 p.m.: Wiley Center Neighborhood House at Greenbridge
— Dec. 6, daytime sessions: Highline College main campus, Building 2 (times will be posted at highline.edu/presidential-search-listening-sessions once they are available)
— Dec. 11, 6:30 p.m.: Federal Way Library, Meeting Room 2

Trustees will use what they learn at the sessions to help create the presidential profile. Profiles often outline general duties and desired qualities or characteristics.

Highline's board is responsible for selecting and employing the college president. It is composed of community members from Highline's service area of South King County: Dan Altmayer and Bob Roegner, both of Federal Way; Debrena Jackson Gandy, Des Moines; Fred Mendoza, Normandy Park; and Sili Savusa, White Center.
